“As you remember your love one, as God heals your broken hearts (Psalm 147:3), may your treasured memories continue to bring you peace, comfort, and strength to endure.”

“My sincere condolences to Andy's family and friends. I had the privilege of working with Andy at Haworth and always appreciated his honesty and genuineness. He made us laugh too with his observations and candor. He told it like it was. He was also a true Spartan and we had many good conversations about our favorite team. RIP Andy, you will be missed.”

“My condolences to Andy's entire family and friends. May your memories give you some comfort in this difficult time. I was fortunate enough to reconnect with Andy after high school through Facebook and I enjoyed our political sparring matches we would have during the elections. He was always respectful of a different opinion and would listen to what I had to say. I will miss seeing his posts about what he's up to, his family and about Kratos. Fly high Andy, you left way too soon!”

“You always knew where you were at with Andy. He spoke his mind and was always honest. He was so confident and yet willing to help. Many nights we would email or IM late at night when we were both working. I respected Andy on so many levels. He was intelligent, honest, comfortable in his own skin. Sadly these are rare traits in people today. My last "talking to" I got from Andy (just a few days before he passed) was him telling me to not come into work on my vacation. To enjoy my vacation because I earned it. This was so Andy! Andy touched my life and I feel blessed to have known him. Rest in Peace my friend! I will always remember you. My thoughts and prayers are with the family.”
