“ "So sorry to hear of your mom's death, Tanya. I know that these last few years for all of you have been a struggle as you quietly grieved for her as she slipped gradually away from the world you all shared together into a different shadowy confusing world. How fortunate she was to have such caring family in her life to try to keep her life as full as possible."

“Dear grandma, I would have thought that your passing would have left me a great deal of sadness or a great emptiness, however these last few years watching you not know who your family was, not having the ability to feed your self or carry on a conversation or take care of your own basic hygienic needs, it was awful to watch you suffer, I am sure it was 100 times worse for everyone who was helping take care of you, I just want to say bless you all for being there for her, Melissa, William Bill, Pamela mom aunt jo, before she became ill her self and pass and grandma lost her best and closest friend, I am just a peace knowing that your suffering is over, I am just sorry your last few years you really were not with us in mind. God rest your soul, sorry I am not there with the rest of the family.”

“To the family of Ann Walker: Please accept my sincerest condolences for the passing of Ann Walker. I join in feeling your grief. I had the honor and pleasure of meeting Ann only a few times, but through my friend and now also my tenant Bill Slaven's sweet memories of his sisters and family, came to know her quit well. He shared many a story and his collection of photos with me and told me of the latest conversations he had with her and Jo, his sister and so I came to know her better. May she rest in peace and may you all rejoice in knowing that she is still with you in sweet memories until you meet again. Sincerely Johanna Loveless.”
