“Barb was part of our Sunday group. We got together Sundays after church for lunch. She was always anxious to talk about her family. You know she loved you very much. Many of us went to Crystal Mt each year for a few days of laughter. This started when your dad Norm was still with us and they owned the large condo. In fact they finished off a room in the basement just to add another couple to the group. When Barb sold the condo, she still wanted us to get together so she would rent sometimes two condo just so we could be together. Fellowship was important to her and she did things to keep us together. Each Christmas she would get many Beechwood people together for a party in her Zealand basement. What good times she helped to provide. She and Norm kept us together. Oh, how they loved Beechwood church and its people. There is now going to be a large hole where Barb once stood.”
