“ In the early seventies I fell off my bike and lost several front teeth. We went to Dr. Ozinga with my teeth wrapped in gauze. He told my mom about something very experimental to try, if we wanted to. He put the teeth back into my gum to see if they would reattach to the bone. They did! I was able to go without a bridge (had my own teeth) until 2007. By that time I was able to get dental implants! So glad he was willing to take the risk!

Thank you Dr. Ozinga!

“ In the late 70's, when I worked at the Highlander Men's Store in Zeeland, sometimes Doc would walk over on his lunch hour, when he got sick of "looking down in the mouth," and do a little shopping. He was always fun to visit with. I am sorry to hear of his passing. He lived a long life, and now he rests in peace. May he rise in glory
