“ "Dear Kim, Kristin and Mr. Gallup: Charlie was in my choir class at Harbor Lights Middle School. He was such a gentle and kind young man with a great sense of humor. It is such a tragedy and just not fair to lose a child and brother. We never know why these sad things happen. Please know that Charlie stands out to me as a happy, memorable child. He impacted everyone he met in the most positive way. I pray that your pain is softened by the love of the Lord and all those around you. With love and prayers, Suzanne Shirey"

Our prayers are that you find some solace in God's promise to reunite you one day. It will be long for you but the beauty of eternity is it will seem like the blink of an eye for your sweet boy. “My thoughts and prayers are with your family, please accept my condolences. I'm a student at Grand Valley and I had Charles in one of my classes this semester. I remember the first time I talked to him, all the tables were full but I recognized him from class so I asked to sit beside him, and he was so welcoming and friendly about it. He always had a smile on his face and brightened up the whole classroom with his positive energy. After class we would hang around for a bit while we would wait for our 6-9 classes, and it was great enjoying his company. He would always be eating this Asian sesame salad which he recommended to me, and ever since it's been my favorite. I had only known him for a little bit, but he always cheered me up whenever I saw him. I will truly miss the presence of a cheerful and kind person like Charles was, and he will always be remembered for making this world a better place.”

“Hello, my name is Drew, and I am a student at Grand Valley. I had the pleasure of having two classes with Charles this semester, and we sat next to each other in both of them. Charles had a very special ability to light up a room the second he walked into it. It seemed that life was so full and abundant in him. On days he could not make it to class, the whole room was a little more dull. He surrounded himself with positivity, and it rubbed off on every person he interacted with. Every class he would bring food and eat his dinner that he cooked up himself, and everyday he shared with me. He was the best classmate, personal chef, and friend that anyone could ever ask for. My heart aches for Charles family during this time of loss, but I want you all to know the impact that he had on my life in such a short time. He will not be forgotten. Please accept my deepest condolence to your family at this time, and know that you will all be in my thoughts and prayers moving forward. God bless, Drew”

“I was Charlie's teacher back in 4th grade at Waukazoo School. He was a kind, smart, funny student. Based on the other condolences I've read, it sounds like he carried these traits into adulthood. I'll never forget the first time I met him at our school open house. He introduced himself and said, "I'm Charlie, but you can call me Chaz." I thought that was so funny at the time. Very very sorry for your loss. My prayers are with you.”

“Gallup family, I know so well the pain you are going through right now. My own son was there in heaven to greet him when he died. He was a beautiful boy with an amazing smile. I wish I could have met him. I'm devastated for you. When my son died, many people told me that his light shined brighter than so many others. I believe this to be true about your own Charles. He will now be an angel in heaven shining brightly. No words can be said to comfort your family. Just know I am here grieving for you and your loss.”

“I had the opportunity to work with Charles at Red Rock Grill. He was always so kind, but also had a smart witty humor that made the work day fly by. He worked hard and always did his best. I enjoy joking around with him and getting under his skin. He is missed dearly. There is a deep sorrow in the kitchen that is felt by all of us. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family.
