“I think of Mr. Eding often, but I must admit I couldn't remember his name. Many years ago, probably in the 1980s I took a physics class at KCC. If it were not for Mr. Eding I wouldn't have passed that course. He was a great teacher and a truly kind person.”

“Dale was one of the first people I met when I joined the faculty of KCC in 1989. I, an English teacher, was put in an extra office with the science department...no room at the inn was the joke. Dale was so kind and when I told him I loved tomatoes, there was one on my desk every morning during growing season. He was one of the best human beings I have ever known.”
