“ A FatherA HusbandA GrandfatherA ManA VeteranA LoverA FighterA WorkerThese are the words that come to mind when I think of Dave. David Olson was someone who supported many people despite the odds. He was a kind, humble, gentle, loveable, honest, and a well rounded individual. No one could say he wasn't brave as he toured Vietnam serving his country despite his personal beliefs. Dave was down to earth, but was a supporter of humanity. He was always good to talk politics with even if you disagreed with him. He made time for the children and grandchildren he loved dearly. He never made promises he couldn't keep. He looked forward to retirement and the plans he and Judy were making. I remember every time I saw him he would ask me about my job. He would sympathize with me and would share the stories of his work. Dave was man whom I respected and looked up too. Dave may have complained about his aches and pains, but Dave always found the strength to get up the next day and make the best of it. Dave was a hero. Even though David has become part of the earth, he will live on in the hearts of those who loved and knew him. RIP.
