

Donald Armstrong

October 4, 1937 - August 30, 2015

Donald N. Armstrong, age 77, died August 30th, 2015 in Holland, Michigan, following a prolonged illness. He leaves his daughters, Natalie Lieberman and her husband Daniel; Stacey Fisher and her husband Jonathan; Elizabeth Armstrong and her husband Chad Koch; and grandchildren Natasha Manthen and her husband Rocky; Michael Lieberman; Anja Goolsby; Joshua Lieberman; and precious great-grandson Cash Manthen; and his sister Beverly Warren and her husband John. He leaves many wonderful nieces and nephews, and lifelong friend Elizabeth Colbert.

Born in Carsonville, Michigan, the son of Arthur Armstrong and Hazel Hewitt Armstrong, brother to Alvin, Barbara, and Beverly, he grew up in Carsonville and Port Huron, Michigan. In his early years, he worked with his brother, Alvin Armstrong and his father with a beer distributorship in Port Huron and later as a radio DJ in Tennessee. He met his wife, Claudette D'Aoust, of 45 years, in Sarnia, Canada. They were married in 1961 in Port Huron, Michigan where they lived and he built his business, Armstrong Trucking, hauling mail for the US government. He was a true man's man with a heart of gold; he loved his three daughters very well. He was always an animal lover, especially his Labrador retriever dogs. An avid golfer and traveler, he enjoyed many trips to Mexico with his beautiful wife Claudette. He loved the water and was a keen fisherman and boater, always enjoying trips to the French River in Ontario with his family, and in younger days diving beneath the Blue Water Bridge. A memorial service will be held in Port Huron, Michigan, details pending.
