“ Where do I start? I met Erin at HCMG at least 20 years ago and we clicked right away as we talked about our love for German Shepherds. You were Granny Muppins to Hannah and Bentley and I know they will miss you dearly. Your silliness and jumping into the background of Hannah's senior pictures that we took in Chicago will forever be etched in my mind. You were there for me through so many things and I will forever be grateful and love you for that. I will miss our quick phone calls that turned into at least an hour and sharing funny vids back and forth with you on Instagram. My heart is completely shattered by your loss. Sending buckets of love and prayers for Mike and Dustin. Hannah and I love you both!

“ Not many people can call your husbands ex wife a friend. That is exactly what Erin was to me. A friend she treated myself and my daughters like we were her family. I always made sure to visit with her, while visiting my stepson Dustin. She was a fabulous friend , mother and wife. I will miss her. Our hearts are broken. 💔💔💔. Until we see you again Erin.
