“ "Her favorite saying and love of sweets come to mind her saying oh well and don't worry about it. Her love of fashion, reading and her sending letters to family and friends. She liked her lunch dates with Jim when id come to clean there home om 32nd street, I still think of them there and look each and every time I pass by. It took Jim along time to give up his job as the care giver of the house and grace. Soon he gave in and before they new it they where happy to see me come. They both left many memories for me to keep close in my heart. Two very special people."
