“ "You're mother was a wonderful woman. One of the quotes that will forever stay with me will be about the wise old owl. The less we speak the more we listen the more we learn. I'm sorry for your loss. I really did enjoy helping to take care of her though."

“It was definitely a GOD thing when I accidentally called Henny on the phone one digit from my sister's number and we became phone friends, I, as well as have my sister Carol and her husband Howard were able to visit her. She was an amazing and interesting person who is now for sure enjoying beautiful things in heaven!”

“For the past 51 years, Henny was my second mother. She instilled courage and strength in my life. She gave great advice, when asked. I will miss our visits on the phone. I look forward to the day when we will be together again. Isabelle Hanse-Amundsen”

“This was a good woman. She was a faithful wife to her husband and a constant presence to the ten children they had together. She was a capable farmer, could grow a mean garden and endure the relentless work involved. She had survivalist skills long before it was cool and knew the value of a waste not want not life. She had a keen mind and could always quote an old adage if the situation needed one. She was proud of her heritage and believed in honesty, humility, hard work and determination. There isn't a day I don't use what she taught me...or at least, you know, consider it. I don't think she could ever realize how much she is appreciated. May she rest peacefully and know she will be missed. Lynae Heck”
