“To the Jongekrijg Family, Paul and I send our warm and heartfelt sympathies to you all in the passing into glory of your dear Mom, Grandmother, and our dear friend; we so enjoyed our visits with her and your Dad while he was still here, taking her to church when she was still able to go, bringing the bulletin to her on Sunday mornings and having a short visit with her when she couldn't come to church anymore and visiting her these last months in the different places she had to be. She was always upbeat in spite of her difficult way and we always left feeling blessed. The breaking of earthly ties is always painful and hard, but when it is Mom it is a bit harder to bear. No one loves you like Mom does; may the Lord comfort all your hearts at this difficult time and be with you in the future as you journey on without her presence in your lives. Your precious memories will keep her ever near and may you look forward to the day when you will all be together again. We were blessed to call her our friend:)

In His love, Paul and Audrey Starrett
