“Tammy, the only phone number I have repeats "mailbox full and cannot accept messages" and I don't have a street address..I sent an email after your first call..I'm so sorry to miss talking to you. This is the only way I know to get back to you. You know how much Victor and I thought of your dad and mom and we also know how he did not have quality of life at this point. We were to sorry when he moved after your mom died but always loved hearing from him through you. I miss you and wish you well. If you ever get back this way, you know we would love to see you or for a visit! I've yet to meet the new residence, they are gone most of the time. I hope you call back and leave me a working number in case we miss each other and an email address. Our condolences on John's passing. Much love.”
