

Kayla Lynn Atsaphanthong

March 19, 2003 - March 19, 2018

Kayla Lynn Atsaphanthong, 15 years old, of Holland, Michigan, died Monday, March 19, 2018. Kayla was born in Holland on January 30, 2003. She was currently a freshman at West Ottawa High School. She will be greatly missed by her father Phone and Keokenta Atsaphanthong, her mother Christina and Quinten Kelley, her siblings: Kaden Atsaphanthong, Christian Kelley, McKenna Kelley, Calvin Atsaphanthong, Kinson Atsaphanthong, grandparents: Chris and Si Liravongsa, many aunts, uncles, cousins and extended family and friends. A funeral service for Kayla will be held 1:30 pm, Saturday, March 24, 2018, at Langeland-Sterenbergh Funeral Home, 315 E. 16th Street, Holland MI 49423.

Visitation will be 1-3 pm and 5-7 pm, Friday, also at the funeral home.

Interment will be in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

Tribute Wall

“ Kayla Lynn Atsaphanthong

August 31, 2022 at 01:26 PM

“ "Kayla was one of the most bright and beautiful people I've ever gotten the honor to know. Moving to Michigan and going to a new school was scary but Kayla made sure to welcome me and make me feel comfortable. If i were to say one thing about Kayla, it'd be that her smile and laugh was crazy contagious. She brought me out of my shell and taught me that friendships are sacred and precious. No matter what she made sure to put others before herself. She was sad if you were sad. She was angry if you were angry. I will forever miss her telling me the crazy dreams she would have about our favorite k-pop stars, or our deep talks in 2nd hour about the future and how terrified we were about it, or helping her write an album based on Summer. Our memories together will always be held close to me. Out of everyone I know, Kayla deserved to be happy the most. She made such a big impact on my life, she really changed me. I wish for nothing more than to talk to her one last time and tell her how much she meant to me and hug her again. Losing one of my best friends is one of the most painful experience I will ever go through. Her heart was too big for this world and we did not deserve her. She is happy now and that's all that matters. I miss you so much beautiful, cheers to when we meet again and I can see your deep dimples once more."

Kimberly Le - May 15, 2018 at 12:00 AM

AS

“I've know Kayla for 8 years, really just most of my life and she was always a blessing to have around. Every single day for the past 7 years we'd sit on the bus and it'd always be bus 152, seat 9, right left side of the bus and in the same order, Jill by the window, me in the middle, and kayla on the outside. We loved reading urban legends on my phone, listening and singing to one direction, kayla would tell us Asian stories' consisting of just random stories she made up or dreams, and we would always play silly games. She always invited me to her birthday parties and they were always the best. Then I moved but in 2nd semester of this year we always met up in the morning on the staircase and just talked about everything going on and the bell would ring so we would walk to class and go up the stairs but she would hold onto my backpack so she wouldn't lose me and then we'd walk to our classes since they were across from eachother and she always told me that she loved me and I told her that I loved her more then we'd see eachother the next day. Kayla was such a sweetheart and had such an impact on my life. She helped me with depression and we could always be silly together while Jill tried to stop us. When high school came I usually rode the bus to my grandmas after school when I didn't have a ride to get to the south side where I lived and Kayla would always sit by me and we would make fun of the cars behind us and making silly faces or we would tell eachother jokes. I love Kayla sosososo much and it really did have an affect on me at school but I'm so happy to say things are going to change and it's all for kayla. My family and I are praying for you and we love you all.”

Anysa Segovia - March 25, 2018 at 12:00 AM

KH

“I am so deeply sorry for your loss. My daughter loves Kayla so much and will miss her deeply. She was kind to everyone and brought happiness to all she knew. Your family will remain in my thoughts and prayers.”

Kerri Van Horn - March 23, 2018 at 12:00 AM

MQ

“Students at Holland Christian are praying for you. We are sorry for your loss.”

Megan Quinn - March 23, 2018 at 12:00 AM

JD

“So sorry for the loss of your daughter in such a non expected manor. My heart & Prayers go to you and your family I did not know her personally but when we all share circumstances of death we become a family with a lot of loss and heartache. You all will be in my prayers and heart during this unimagably difficult time for your family and friends. My prayers are with you.”

Jennifer Van Dam - March 23, 2018 at 12:00 AM

SV

“Still at a loss for words. Such a beautiful young lady! My heart aches for the family! Gonna miss seeing her walk by the house. Rest in peace Kayla❤️ I may not visit much, but I appreciate this family more than they will ever know.”

Sonya Vicencio - March 22, 2018 at 12:00 AM

RO

“*“Weeping willow with your tears running down
Why do you always weep and frown?
Is it because she left you one day?
Is it because she could not stay?
On your branches she would swing
Do you long for the happiness that day would bring?
She found shelter in your shade.
You thought her laughter would never fade.
Weeping willow, stop your tears.
There is something to calm your fears.
You think death has ripped you forever apart.
But I know she'll always be in your heart.” The heavens have gained another angel. Sending our love and prayers.”*

Robert - March 22, 2018 at 12:00 AM

SB

““We have not met Kayla, but my son is good friends with Kaden. We are so sorry for your loss.”

Stacy and Brayden Bower - March 22, 2018 at 12:00 AM

TS

““Heaven has gained an Angel. My condolences to my family out there in Michigan. My heart also aches from this loss because I didn't get to meet and know my cousin. Love, Tracey (Manisakhone's Daughter)”

Tracey Somsouk - March 22, 2018 at 12:00 AM

EG

““I didn't know you but some friends are heartbroken over your loss. I hope you're happy up there, and rest easy.”

Evie Gillott - March 22, 2018 at 12:00 AM

AP

“You were the best. I know we recently got closer, but it was great. I never saw you with a frowning face. I loved talking to you in class everyday. I mean , just last Friday we were playing with water bottles, staples, and scissors. I hope everything is well for your family; I bet they are going through a lot. Keep hanging on, it will get better. Rest easy Kayla, you will be greatly missed.”

Analisa Perez - March 22, 2018 at 12:00 AM

MK

“My heart breaks for your loss. I cannot imagine what your family is going through. I am so sorry for your loss. May God give you comfort in your time of greatest need”

Michael Kremer - March 21, 2018 at 12:00 AM