He always liked a good story about any kind of wildlife, and spent much time listening to books about the West and nature from Muskegon Library for the Blind. Lam was a lifelong member of Maplewood Reformed Church. Lambert's family would like to thank the wonderful staff at Providence Healthcare & Rehabilitation Center in Zeeland, for the care he received the last few weeks. “I haven't seen Lam in more than fifty years, but I continue to cherish some fond memories. Lam and my father allowed me as a young boy to tag along on many adventures. The winter rabbit hunts listening to the beagles howl, the Saturday evening visits on 35th Street while Lam and Chris and my parents played cards. And the Muskegon river cottages built side by side produced some of the most memorable times; the fishing, exploring the river with our small boats, fish fries, and of course that glorious rope swing over the river in front of the Haveman cottage! My prayers are with the family.”
