Rich and I were partners in apartments in Grand Haven. Probably not the best business guys but Rich always was ready to have a good breakfast before our day's work. On occasion when he wanted to lose weight he reminded me that it was a good idea to start a diet on a full stomach.

We traveled together, played cards together and laughed a lot.

Priceless bonding experience.

Leslie, Ryan, Jill....know we care.

“ Mr. Herbig cast a large shadow. He was tough, smart and kind. I can still remember where I sat in his class and that was 35 years ago! He commanded respect and had a smile that would greet you each day making you feel welcome and seen. Upon graduation I just remember feeling like I wanted to grow into someone of whom Mr. Herbig would be proud. He's taught 1000s of kids in his life, but I always felt like if I saw him about, he'd still know who I was and maybe even remember my name. Thanks Mr. Herbig, well done!

“ *Mr Herbig was an incredible teacher who completely changed my outlook on education.
I'll forever be grateful for the impact he made in me and many others.
He will be terribly missed by many.*

“ I consider Mr. Herbig as having been one of my favorite teachers at Hamilton High School. I remember him as having written U.S. Government notes using all capital letters! More importantly, I remember him as having made this non-athlete feel as valued as the best player on the team. My sympathy to his family and may God bless you with comfort and with peace.

“ Rich was a man of huge integrity, decency and kindness. During my 1995/6 Fulbright year teaching at Hamilton HS and ,subsequently, his involvement with the student exchange programme between HHS, MI and Farlingaye High, Woodbridge, Suffolk, UK, organised by me, Bill Moreau and others, he was keen to widen perspectives on both sides of the Atlantic. To me, he was a rock, a man of intellect, clear vision and a debunker of falsity and humbug wherever he found it, especially trumped up political nonsense. His firm grasp of historical precedent made him a wonderful, unbigotted correspondent, enduring friend and, I believe , a first rate teacher. A devoted family man, his death is a terrible loss to all who have been privileged to know him . Heart-felt condolences.

“ I am so glad I had a chance to meet Rich and get to know him a little bit through interactions in the community because Rich truly exemplified the truth that every encounter with another is an opportunity see God and to share grace. Rich was so genuine and a real human being. Lots of love to all who loved Rich, he will be so missed.

“ Rich (and Les) can be summed up in one word; supportive. They were the heartbeat of Christ Memorial Church. As long-time members there, they saw many things and lived through many changes. Their kindness to me will never be forgotten. I am sorry to hear about Rich's sudden transition into eternity. May he rest in peace and rise in glory.
