“Shirley was like a mom to all of us Macatawa kids way back when. She saw the good in everybody and had incredible social skills and the ability to resolve difficult situations without hurt feelings. One time when i was about 10 years old, my mom was floating in an inner tube and the top of her bathing suit fell down in front of almost everyone in Macatawa (I know Scott and Greg remember this because we talked about it at my mom's funeral). I was so shocked at the sight I was speechless I didn't know what to do or say. Shirley just casually called out, "Barb, you should adjust your suit," like that happened every day. She kept a small disaster from becoming a catastrophe. More than anyone I know, she embodied the spirit and the beauty of Macatawa. Rest In Peace, wonderful lady.”

“Those of us lucky enough to grow up in East Grand Rapids were also "lucky" to know one of America's iconic families. The Swaney's were all special and Shirley led the group with character and grace all learned from her folks. Shirley was ahead of her time with Mind & Body books and messages. She mentored many and set examples for productive, happy, healthy lifestyles. She taught aerobics before the word was in the dictionary. She was a dear friend who cared about her friends and kept in touch. We will miss her historic stories about her beloved Macatawa and her family gatherings there. What a gift she was and what a smile. We are thinking of you all. Bob & Sherry Lavin Bitd”

“I so enjoyed meeting and getting to know Shirley when we were working together to honor her father in dedicating the Lobby of the David Hunting YMCA. We sat at her cottage as she was reflecting on him and she cried when we realized our dedication day would fall on her father's birthday. She was so full of gratitude and her love for her family always shown through. She was a bright light for me in my career. I so admired her spunk and wisdom. A remarkable woman I will never forget.”

“Shirley introduced me to Tai Chi when she taught at the Arts Council and I loved coming to the class because she she was always upbeat and encouraging. She gave so much during our sessions and I felt right at home and learned SO much from her in the classes. My thoughts and prayers are with the family and her friends.”
