“ I’ve been living with Parkinson’s disease for quite some time, and for years, I struggled to find lasting relief. While medications offered some temporary help, the symptoms always returned and often worsened. Out of a mix of hope and hesitation, I decided to try an herbal treatment program from NaturePath Herbal Clinic. I’ll admit, I was skeptical at first. But around the fourth month, I began to notice real, steady progress. My tremors became less frequent the stiffness in my body eased My balance and coordination gradually improved It wasn’t an overnight transformation, but it was consistent and life changing. For the first time in years, I feel more in control of my body. I can move with greater freedom, sleep more peacefully, and enjoy daily activities without the constant discomfort I once accepted as normal. The improvement I’ve experienced physically, emotionally, and mentally has been nothing short of upliftings. If you’re exploring natural options for managing Parkinson’s, I wholeheartedly recommend looking into NaturePath Herbal Clinic. Their approach has made a real difference in my life, and I’m truly grateful I gave it a chance. www.naturepathherbalclinic.com info@naturepathherbalclinic.com

“I became friends with Stan and Nancy, when he was leading the little group at Collegiate Church, in Des Moines, IA. The context, for me, was that of a gay man exploring church again, after staying away for ten years. For the church (from my perspective, in my memory now,) I represented one of the "others," and Stan was helping his parishioners grow into the Jesus experience of there not being any "others." It was a rich time for me that I will not forget.”

“Back in 1960, Stan knocked on my dorm room door at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine. That knock was important in linking me up with several other students and a Christian professor and providing me with some Christian stability for those 4 years. I don't think I saw Stan more than 1 or two times, but his face and name have always stuck with me. I had occasion to think of him tonight and googled him. I am so sorry to read of his death. I knew he was an exceptional man, and his obituary dignifies that thought. He lived a God honoring life-I am grateful to have stepped into some of the light that he shed. My condolences for your loss.”

“Dear Nancy,
I'm glad that a friend sent Stan's obituary notice. It brought back memories of Stan in Boston and New England with InterVarsity, and looking forward to times when he crashed at my apartment. His joyful spirit was always encouraging. Over the years when I ran into his students they were always so appreciative of his counsel and care. His vocation lived out who he was and who he wanted to be. Another seminary professor, who had helped me so much, was diagnosed with cancer in his 80's and gone in a few months. When we saw his widow in the summer, she said, "I miss him every day, and I wouldn't have him back for anything". It doesn't make sense but it does. Our warmest wishes to you and your girls. In Christ,
Tom Stark, Lansing, MI 8/26/19”

“Nancy, I just saw the notice in the paper and am saddened for you and your family. We used to have fun meals at your home through the church. I have fond memories of our times together, Stan was a very fine man. He will be missed by many people. We hope your health is good. We are living in Holland once again to be near my children as we age. Our prayers are with you.”

“So grateful to have learned from this warm and wise man when I was a long-ago student at WTS. So many of us were blessed by his gentle firmness as he taught us and showed us how to help and care for others. God's peace to all his family.”

“Stan believed in me at a time in my life when I had reason to doubt my usefulness in the Kingdom. He also invited me into a new chapter of my life where I learned to do theology from the ground up. In that and so many other ways he blessed my life as a colleague and a dear friend for whom I will always be grateful.”

“As an older student at Western from 1985-87, I learned much about pastoral counseling from Stan. More importantly, I learned the definition of grace as I saw it lived out in his teaching and life. Stan played a major role in enabling me to be a pastor in the true sense of what that entails. I thank God for allowing me to experience just a small part of Stan's life.”

“Stan's legacy will continue in the pastoral work of hundreds of RCA ministers. I always appreciated his motto about "hallowing our diminishments," which he not only taught but lived out. I very much regret that I am not able to attend Stan's funeral. Mary and I will be travelling to Florida to care for our grandchildren while our son and daughter-in-law help to lead a retreat for Protestant pastors in Cuba.”
