“ "Tom and I shared the same last name so we became "cousins" during our years at Trenton High School. Just one example of his wonderful sense of humor: We exchanged gag Christmas gifts and I had asked for a powder blue convertible like the one he drove. He came with a small model of a convertible that was white. His explanation was that his mother had washed the car in really hot water and with bleach. He was a great man and I will remember him always."
