“ A memory that comes immediately to mind regarding my cousin Tom is the time my parents (Bud and Thelma Sneller Kik) visited Tom and his parents and siblings about a week before Christmas when he was about eight years old. I would have been about twelve years old at the time. About five minutes after we arrived, Tom showed me a Christmas present, wrapped, and, with his name on it! The wrapping paper was thin, so, by pressing it against the gift box, I made out that his present was a horseshoe game made of rubber. He ran like lightening into the living room and proudly told his parents "his" discovery.

I heard about "helping" Tom from both of my parents in the car during our return trip home!
