“ "To Rodriguez family, I really didn't know her that much but from what i hear she is a very sweet girl. Don't worry about her she is fine because she is in God's hands. I will keep you in my prayers. Just think of it as another angel watching over you. I had the same exprience when my grandma died I felt like god just took her away from me but jess is in better place."

“I'll always remember you my friend, Yesica, as we grew up together in school since kindergarten. You were always funny and I enjoyed your friendship. My sisters loved your sweet hugs you would give them. I guess our Abba wanted you by him already, I will see you soon in heaven when its our turn. Love you Always and praying for your family in this difficult time. I pray the Lord comfort their hearts and give them all strength they need. "Until We Meet Again!" Love, Sabrina Nieto, my sisters Bella & Destiny, and Mr./ Mrs Nieto"

“Dear Rodriquez family,I am deeply saddened to learn the news of Yesica. Yesica was a sweet girl, that I had the privilege of teaching in 5th grade in some of my eb groups. I spoke with Yesica when she first learned that she had leukemia. She seemed so positive and upbeat about her illness. I was able to hug her and told her to feel free to talk to me. I had reassured her that she would be fine. My own son had leukemia at 8 and had also doctored at Devos. I will keep you all in my thoughts and prayers. God Bless you all, Mrs. Jillayne Everest”
